The Southeastern Pennsylvania Synod's Anti-Racism Team announces a new offering of anti-racism education, this time for both lay and rostered participants.

The format consists of:

- One 90-minute Zoom meeting to introduce the curriculum, planned for Monday, March 11, 2024, 7:00 to 8:30 p.m.
- Nine online modules outlining the historical context of the systemic racism embedded in our current institutions. Participants will have at least nine weeks, at their convenience, to complete these modules.
- One in-person day-long session on Saturday, June 1, 2024, at the Brossman Center, United Lutheran Seminary, 7301 Germantown Avenue, Philadelphia.

This curriculum fulfills the mandatory requirement for anti-racism education by the synod's rostered ministers. As such, rostered ministers are strongly encouraged to participate.

This program is free to all participants.
